

ARMCHAIR 789

ARMCHAIR 789 IN MAHOGANY was designed by Josef Frank for Svenskt Tenn in 1938. Its transparent back expresses Josef Frank's ideas of keeping the interior light and airy and free from restrictive obstacles and walls. The design is typical of the early Victorian period and in England is generally referred to as a Captain's chair. The chair is nowadays produced by Gemla, Sweden's oldest furniture factory.
